VACATION BIBLE STUDY

The Missouri Mission Messenger is preparing advertising for Vacation Bible Studies, of the most unique and dignified style. The can be used by any congregation in the country, merely by stamping the local church address thereon. It will be furnished at a price that will enable any congregation to purchase a thousand folders at the price of the pictures that will be used thereon.

Those who plan Vacation Bible Studies this year and who would like to advertise them right, and with interest-commanding material, may write at once for samples, which will be sent free. The supply will be limited. Write inmediately! First come, first served!

HENSLEY AT KANSAS CITY

It has been definitely arranged that William Hensley will take up development and personal work training in the Kansas City area for an extended period of time. beginning in June, 1946. The program will not include preaching at either of the sponsoring churches, but attempts will be made to have Bro. Hensley used at nearly churches in development work. It will necessitate his moving to Kansas City from his present home at Red Cloud, Nebraska. and we feel that this arrangement will do much to strengthen the Cause in Missouri, providing an activated program on the west: ern side of the state. Bro. Hensley will also supervise the radio broadcast speaking work.

Bernell Weems of the Manchester Avenue Church (Saint Louis) who will work with the church in Oakland, California, in 1945.

KANSAS CITY NEW YEAR SERVICE

The New year's Eve service continuing until midnight, held by the church at 26th and Spruce Streets. Kansas City was presided over by William Hensley. Featured were talks as follows. Glen Ellis, "Looking Back"; Churchill Teghtmeyer. "Watch"; Fred Fenton. "Proving The acceptable Will of God"; Wilford Landes, "Looking Forward". Song directors were Bros. Wilbur Davis, McGhee V. Ellis, and Fenton.

Sixty-eight members of the congregation gathered at the home of Pro. and Sister Leonard Swearingin, on January 12, for a house-warming party. Another gathering during the month was in honor of Kenneth Van Dusen to bid him tarewell, as he entrained for Fort Meade, Maryland. On the 29th of January, a group met at the home of Bro. Weaver, who is $8 years old and sang for him.

SAINT LOUIS READING CLOSES

The six weeks winter session of the Saint Louis Bible Study reached a conclusion on February 9. Average daily attendance was 21. Material covered included Old Testament law, history and prophecy. Students were entertained in homes of several of the members, and men in attendance preached at churches in the metropolitan area, as well as at Bonne Terre and Flat River. They visited Temple Israel, the old St. Louis cathedral, and other points of in. terest, and heard the lecture on "Egyptology" given by W. Ketcherside at St. Louis Art Museum. Five States were represented in the class.

NO SUMMER READING

Elders of St. Louis churches have abandoned the idea of a summer session of the Bible Reading for 1945, to enable W. Carl Ketcherside to teach at least four one week sessions, at places which may see fit to sponsor studies in analytical form of the New Testament books. These studies may be so arranged that several from a local church can take their vacations at the same time, and get five full days of Bible teaching, and then regular preaching services may be held each night. For particulars, address the editor at once. It is probable that a short session Reading will be held in St. Louis in the fall or winter of 1945.

ST. LOUIS TOPS 50,000

Statistics reveal that the three St. Louis churches had a total attendance at their regular meetings in 1944, of 50,568. It was divided as follows: Manchester. 23,009; Lillian. 20.146; Webster Groves, 7.413. The goal was 47,000, so it was well surpassed. Last year there was a little over 45.000 tallied on the score sheet which was read at the annual joint business meeting Rejoicing was shown over the notable increase for the year.

SPECIAL MARCH ISSUE

Next month we are presenting a special issue of 8 pages, twice the size and content of this paper. This is made possible by an increase in our subscription list, which has been growing constantly. Every cent received for subs. goes right into the paper. No one receives a penny of support from it, so the more we receive, the larger and better the paper will be. Arvel Watts of Flat River is now assisting us in part of the proof-reading. If your sub is out, be sure and renew before lext time. Other large issues will be sent out as finance affords. Thanks a million to all our faithful helpers! You will find some odd and different features in the March number!

STRIKING A GERMAN MINE!

The following article by Dorsey R Orr, RM 2c, was prepared by special request, for release in this paper. The author is a member of the congregation at Nevada. Mo., now stationed at the Amphibious Training Base, Solomons, Maryland.

After eighteen months in the Navy as a radio instructor, I was put in the Amphiblous Forces and in February was on an LST (Landing Ship - Tanks), which visited several American and Canadian ports, then joined a large overseas convoy. Sixteen daye later we dropped our soldier passengers at Milford Haven, Wales, and went on through the Irish Sea and English channel, to Southampton. There we unloaded the LCT (Landing Craft; Tanks) with which our main deck was loaded. We then sailed for Falmouth in Cornwall, England where we stayed for a comple of

We had our first experience with the enemy on night of April 28, when a group of LST's, including my ship, was attacked by German E-Boats, their version of our speedy PT boats. Although our radar told us their position, we could do them no damage, while they stayed out of range and launched their torpedoes, one of which narrowly missed us astern. It was an alarming sight to see nearby ships get hit, explode and burn flercely before slipping under the waters.

In June we were sent to Plymouth, the spot from which the Pilgrims embarked when leaving for America. There was a lot of speculation about invasion, and we knew something big was in the air, by restrictions placed on travel, stopping outgoing mail, etc. No enlisted man was allowed ashore unless accompanied by an officer, to avoid careless talk. I was ship mail clerk and everytime I went after the mail, an officer tagged right along.

When the D-Day broke, took over a load of tanks on the lower deck, and all kinds of trucks, command cars and jeens on the main deck topside. We reached the Omaha Beach, Normandy France, four hours after "H" hour, but heavy German artillery fire stood us off until a battleship and cruiser came up and slienced the German guns. On our way back to Southampton, nearest English port, we acted as a hospital ship and carried more than a hundred wounded incluing a few Germans They got the same attention as our own, and a German corporal who had a bad arm from a shrapnel wound, had an amputation performed to save his life, since the wound was gangrenous,

As soon as port facilities permitted, we unloaded our wounded. took on another load of light and medium tanks and started over again. This was on June 11, and as we neared the beach once more, I was standing the 2000 to 2400 watch (8 p.m. untill midnight). I had been on duty an hour when a terrific explosion occurred on our port side opposite the radio room. The man l had relieved sustained a broken hip. I was thrown violently backwards with the radio gear twisted over me and pinning me down. Several minutes passed while we wondered what would be next. Then a submarine chaser took us over the side and we could check up on extent of damage. A lot of our fellows were killed outright, and all others were injured. But calmness prevailed and there was no algn of frenzy, even the wounded clamping down on their lips to hold back cries of pain, were taken back to England on anther LST, and sent to a tent hospital for temporary repairs, then loaded on a hospital train and sent to a permanent base hospital.

I was fortunate, for I was released from the hospital on July 4. and permitted to spend time in rest camps before going back to duty on another LST. I attended various types of religious service, but dld not get to go to a Church of Christ until I got to London. Here we have the Christian Church and Church of Christ, but in England they all call themselves Churches of Christ. I found a faithful church at Hope Chapel, Prince of Wales Road, Kentlsh Town, London, The congregation is small, but they made me feel very much at home with their wonderful hospitality. I enjoyed association with them both in the worship and in their private homes. But I'm glad to he back in the U.S.A

when you said there was no place like home. I didn't really know it meant so much, until 1 had to leave it, but we have to go through with such things before we lesen what is dear to us, It may be part of the reason we are having this war, to make us realize how good God has been to bless them, and because of the sins of the world.

SOMEWHERE IN HOLLAND

"It has been almost two years since I left, and I would love to be at regular services again. I am now looking forward to my return to enjoy the fellowship of Christians. I have been in the midst of the unwodly, 'till I sometimes wonder how God lets such a wicked world stand,

As a civilian, I recall people wondering what they could do for soldiers to aid them? The one thing you as a congregation can do for us all, is to work together as Christians, doing all you can for the Cause of Christ, and have a stronger congregation for us to return to.

When you write, be sure to send a paragraph or so concerning the work of the home congregation. It means a lot to me. That is my interest. I feel sure we will win this war, and victory will be ours by the help of Almighty God. As I close I pray for you all in the Lord".

SOMEWHERE IN ITALY

Dearest Mother:

Will drop you a few lines this morning (Dec. 25) to let you know I am still quite well. It's a little strange to be spending Christmas in a foreign land, but the American spirit is still with us. It is easier now to see that our country and its ideals are worth fighting for. Believe me. I didn't have to be in Italy long to see the truth of that,

The people here have truly felt the hurt of this war and it still shows. I have never before seen such signs of poverty. At this place where we are located, little kids run about in rayged clothes, half of them without shoes, and beg for the scraps of food we do not eat. It's really a nathetic sight. As for ourselves we're still in reasonable comfort. We're quartered in buildings and get hot and decent food. I'm "You sure said a mouthful thankful to be able to spend this day as we are for conditions could be much worse. I'm wondering if all the family are together and hope that they are.

Pfc. James Temple (Manchester Ave. Church).
